

SENATE PASSES
ALASKAN BILL

Provides for Federal Construction of Railways.

SIMILAR MEASURE IN HOUSE

Under the Terms of the Bill the President is Authorized to Purchase or Construct One Thousand Miles of Railroad in Alaska at a Cost Not to Exceed Forty Million Dollars.

Washington, Jan. 26.—By a vote of 46 to 16 the senate passed the Alaskan railway bill, directing the president to purchase or construct 1,000 miles of railroad in Alaska at a cost not to exceed $40,000,000.

Fifteen Republicans and Senator Poinsett, Progressive, voted for the bill. Senators Bacon, Hoke Smith and Williams, Democrats, voted against it.

The bill places upon the president responsibility for the selection of the route from tidewater to the interior of Alaska and the construction, equipment and operation or leasing of such lines as he may construct or buy to constitute this route.

The broadest powers are conferred upon the president in carrying out his duties.

The bill provides for a redemption fund into which shall be paid 75 per cent of all moneys derived from the sale of public lands in Alaska or of the coal or material contents thereof. Machinery utilized in the construction of the Panama canal is made available for the construction work.

Several Amendments Beaten.

Unavailing efforts to reduce the $40,000,000 appropriation authorized for the work were made during the closing hours of the debate. Senator Hoke Smith sought to have the appropriation reduced to $25,000,000 and Smoot to $35,000,000. Among other amendments defeated were the Norris amendment for government steamship to Alaska, the Poinsett amendment for the sale of Alaska coal at cost to Pacific coast points and the Cummins substitute, limiting the construction to one main line.

With the consent of the territorial committee the bill was amended before passage to require the senate's approval of the appointment of civil engineers receiving more than $3,000 per annum, to forbid any payment for the good will of existing railways, giving injured employees the right to sue the government and limiting the government's defenses to those provided for in the federal employers' liability law of 1908.

A similar bill is pending in the house.

ASKS $75,000 FOR INDIANS

Miller Seeks Appropriation for Minnesota Tribes.

Washington, Jan. 26.—On the suggestion of Representative Miller the house committee on Indian affairs inserted an item of $50,000 in the Indian appropriation bill for the purchase of land on which to locate the nonremoval Mille Lac Indians who are now living on their old reservation around Mille Lacs, Minn.

The Indian office recommended an appropriation of $25,000, but Miller said that wasn't enough and that the amount agreed upon would more nearly meet the requirements of the situation.

Twenty-five thousand dollars each for two hospitals for the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota was also provided in paragraphs put into the bill. One is to be located either on Red Lake or Leach Lake reservation and the other in the northeastern part of the state for the benefit of the Nett Lake, Fond du Lac and Grand Forks Indians.

GOETHALS EAGER TO LEAVE

Says Burden of Criticism of His Work Is Becoming Heavy.

Panama, Jan. 26.—Colonel George W. Goethals reiterated emphatically his declaration that he will not accept the post of commissioner of police at New York until after the completion and the successful operation of the Panama canal. Even if all the other conditions which he has imposed were complied with, it is said, this would keep him on the isthmus for another eighteen months.

Colonel Goethals does not make a secret of his desire to leave the isthmus. He makes it plain, however, that he wishes to see his work here completed and the canal in operation before he returns to other duties in the United States. He has told friends that the burden is growing heavy and that he has felt the weight of criticism that has come to his administration from various quarters.

DISCUSS LARGE
CANAL PROJECTJoint Commissioners Consider Great Lakes Waterways.

FROM MONTREAL TO DULUTH

Three Routes Have Been Suggested to Connect the Great Lakes With the Atlantic So That the Largest Ocean Going Vessels Will Be Able to Safely Traverse the Locks.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Negotiations have been instituted with Canada by the United States looking to the building of a waterway from Montreal to Duluth that would accommodate the largest cargo carrying steamers afloat.

The enterprise proposed approaches in magnitude the task undertaken by the United States when it began the work of building the Panama canal. The cost of an ocean way from Montreal to the head of navigation on Lake Superior is variously estimated from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000.

It is the belief of public men in Washington that in the comparatively near future the United States and Canada will enter into an agreement to build such a waterway, the cost to be proportioned between the two countries, according to the benefits to be derived.

The question was discussed at a conference held in Washington last week, in which Secretary of State Bryan, James A. Tawney of Minnesota, representing the international joint commission, and Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan, took part.

Negotiating With Canada.

As a result the joint commission, of which Mr. Tawney is chairman, has begun negotiations with the Canadian section of this international body. The negotiations will be conducted in the main by Mr. Tawney, acting in behalf of the United States, and by Th. Chase-Casgrain, K. C., chairman of the Canadian section of the joint commission.

The agitation for an oceanway from Atlantic tidewater to the head of navigation on the Great Lakes was begun many years ago and was discussed seriously when President Taft entered into the Canadian reciprocity agreement. The men now interested declare that the matter will be pressed to a conclusion.

Three routes have been suggested for a waterway connecting the ocean and the lakes deep enough to be traversed by ocean steamers. One of them, a Canadian project, provides that the waterways shall begin at Georgian bay, proceed thence to the Ottawa river and thence to the St. Lawrence.

Another route suggested is by canal to Lake Ontario and from that point through locks and dams down the St. Lawrence to Montreal. It is estimated that if the former project was adopted it would entail an expenditure of $250,000,000.

Americans Propose Route.

A third route proposed by Americans is more generally favored, especially on this side of the border. It involves the use of all the lakes and the St. Lawrence river with its outlet to the ocean. It is suggested that this particular route would not seriously affect the lake levels, where the others, it is feared, might lower the lake waters considerably.

In discussing the benefits to be derived by the United States and Canada from an oceanway such as is proposed Senator Townsend, who brought the question to the attention of congress and the international joint commission, said:

"To the Great Lakes the greatest commerce of the world is tributary. The fertile fields, the exhaustless mines, the largest manufactories and the mighty forests of the most productive regions of the United States and Canada would find their natural outlet to market over this waterway. The commerce of this course would exceed in one year the total commerce which the optimistic estimator predicts will pass through the Panama canal in ten years."

PLANS TO EXPEDITE
ANTI-TRUST BILLS

Senate Committee Holds Important Conference.

Washington, Jan. 26.—How to expedite the anti-trust legislative program outlined to congress last week by President Wilson was the subject of an informal conference at the home of Senator Newlands of Nevada, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce. Participating in the conference were the majority members of the committee, Senators Pomeroy, Robinson, Thomas, Thompson, Myers and Saulsbury, and Representatives Clayton, Floyd and Carlin of the house judiciary subcommittee.

Co-operation of committees in both houses of congress was agreed upon as essential to the best and quickest results in carrying the program to completion, and to this end the suggestion of joint hearings on the bills already prepared met with general favor.

Chairman Clayton agreed to submit the matter to the judiciary committee for determination.

An effort will be made to begin the hearing this week, the first bills to be taken up being those in relation to prohibition of interlocking directorates, definitions of restraints of trade and "cut throat" competition.

The aim of the committees will be to have the program ready for congress by March 1.

PROBER SEEKS INDICTMENTS

Involves Four Men in New York Highway Grant.

New York, Jan. 26.—The immediate indictment of two present and two former state officials on charges of malfeasance in office will be sought in Albany county, it was announced here by James W. Osborne, appointed by Governor Glynn to investigate alleged highway and barge canal graft.

Mr. Osborne left for Albany to place the matter before the district attorney. He will seek indictments against John A. Bensch, state engineer; Duncan W. Peck, superintendent of public works; C. Gordon Reel, former superintendent of highways, and Charles F. Foley, former deputy highway commissioner.

SAYRES AT WHITE HOUSE

Wilson Family Circle Complete First Time Since Wedding.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The family circle at the White House is complete for the first time in two months. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, the latter formerly Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, reached Washington after a two months' honeymoon in Europe.

They came back to the executive mansion as inconspicuously as they left it on the night of the wedding.

The young couple accompanied the president and Mrs. Wilson to the theater. They expect to spend a few days here before going to their future home in Williamstown, Mass.

TEACHER FOUND NOT GUILTY

Acquitted on Charge of Maliciously Whipping Pupil.

Iola, Kan., Jan. 26.—Miss Julia Mary Austin will retain her position in the Gas City schools, where a referendum vote of the pupils recently ousted her teacher, and she will not be fined or jailed for her efforts to preserve order in the school. A jury here found Miss Austin not guilty of maliciously whipping a pupil.

The trial lasted a week and created intense interest in Southeast Kansas.

PROGRESSIVES TO MAKE HARD FIGHT

Plan to Place Ticket Everywhere There Is an Election.

NATION WATCHING ALABAMA

Close Race on For Senate Between Underwood and Hobson—Senator Jackson of Maryland, Replaced by Lee, Saw the Shadow and Got a Speech Into the Record.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—"A Progressive ticket in every place where there is an election," is the declaration of the Progressive party leaders. Such was the last word of the leader of the Progressives now in South America, and it is the intention of his followers to carry out his wishes.

Perhaps that it is why the Republicans are somewhat gloomy at present as to the prospects for the campaign for a Republican congress, although the public predictions are free and bold to the effect that no matter what the Progressives may do a Republican house will be elected this fall and enough states go Republican to give that party a majority in the senate.

After a Tariff Bill.

Turning over the pages of history, the Republicans obtain some comfort out of the fact that after one party has revised the tariff the other is always successful. That has been the rule for forty years or more, the only exception being when the Dingley law was passed, and the reason given why the Republicans were successful that year was that that party had conducted the successful war of 1898. Even then the majority was but eighteen.

But the tariff will have the effect only in case the country is not in a prosperous condition. Hard times following important legislation of any kind are always attributed to the party in power.

Eyes on Alabama.

The senatorial contest in Alabama becomes more interesting as the time approaches for the primaries, which will be early in April. Conflicting reports come from the "Here We Rest" state, and they range from 40,000 majority for Underwood over Hobson to 10,000 for Hobson over Underwood. The liquor question is a red-hot issue in the campaign. The anti-saloon league is supporting Hobson and making it uncomfortable for the majority leader of the house. Then there is a certain protection element which is working against Underwood, although Hobson voted for the same schedules as Underwood.

The Senate's Way.

A subject was under discussion in the house, and it was suggested that the senate ought to yield. "But the senate will not yield," said Congressman Austin of Tennessee. "The senators have so stated and you cannot force them. They are more contrary than a lot of Missouri mules whenever they set their minds on a proposition."

"If I have the misfortune to stay here I will stay just as long as the senate on any proposition I think is right," hotly asserted Smith of Minnesota. "It is time the house awakened to its own dignity."

Saw the Shadow.

It looks as if Senator Jackson of Maryland saw the shadow which forecast the seating of Blair Lee as his successor. Jackson had been claiming that he should hold his seat until the present Maryland legislature adjourned, but the senate committee seemed to think otherwise. Jackson made a speech before action was taken, however, earnestly favoring government aid for good roads. Had he delayed he might not have been able to make that speech.

The President's Discretion.

During a discussion of the Alaska railroad bill Senator Borah broke into the remarks of Senator Williams with a statement that, although the proposed appropriation for the railroad was limited to $40,000,000, he was convinced that it would cost much more. "We must trust the discretion of the president in expending this money or we will not get a railroad. I do not know of any one with whom we can more appropriately rest it than the president and let him be controlled on the question of economy by the Baltimore platform. Would not that be satisfactory to the senator from Mississippi?"

"Why, not quite," replied John Sharp Williams; "not quite approximately even."

Friend of the West.

Senator Gallinger has ever been a friend of the west, of the territories before they became states, of the new states and their people. He said in the senate recently:

"I may have said before—and I am going to repeat it because it is a matter of pride with me—that in a great western city I was once introduced to an audience as an eastern man with western ideas. I thought it was a great compliment."

"That was a distinct compliment," remarked Senator Borah.

Success in most things depends on knowing how long it takes to succeed.

JULIA FLAKE.

Love of Her Stepfather Led Him to Kill Wife.

The intense love which Julia Flake, sixteen years old, of Galesburg, Ill., bore for her stepfather, Robert Higgins, led to the murder of the girl's mother, Higgins' wife. Her young love was returned. She continually urged Higgins to commit the crime. The girl even wrote to relatives plotting her own mother's death. Higgins confessed "because the officers told me Julia would suffer if I remained quiet." He continued, "Julia kept asking me to kill my wife, so I did finally. She kept telling me if I didn't she would commit suicide." The girl probably will be freed and the stepfather prosecuted.

THREE MEN INJURED
BY FALLING WALLS

Serious Blaze Occurs at Thief River Falls, Minn.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 26.—Fire injured three men and destroyed the Evenson brick block, occupied by Loken Bros. department store and the Citizens' State bank on the first floor, with numerous lawyers' and doctors' offices on the second floor. The heat became terrific soon after the fire started and, as there was no vent in the bank, it blew out the plate glass windows, showers of bricks and glass being blown clear across the street. Soon after this the same condition obtained on the second floor and the south and west walls were blown outward, the south wall catching the three men.

Fred Eagler, a freight conductor, who was assisting the firemen, was seriously and probably mortally injured. His leg was broken and he was cut severely and bruised about the head and shoulders and possibly was injured internally. Denny La Sage and Chris Porter, firemen, were cut severely and bruised. The total loss is about $75,000.

Mexico City, Jan. 26.—One hundred women and children and 150 federal soldiers were massacred by rebels recently near Vanegas, north of San Luis Potosi, according to reports received here.

The soldiers with the women surrendered to the rebels and were taken to a ranch near Matehuala, where the alleged butchery occurred.

Major Rebollo and Captain Ramirez and a handful of men were the only ones to escape. They arrived here bringing news of the affair, which took place several days ago.

Mr. Silverman was dead when his son found him. On his chest, with the motor running at top speed, lay the massage apparatus, the casing so hot that it had burned the flesh. The machine was connected with an ordinary electric light socket.

RAILWAY SUES GOVERNMENT

Asks $62,000,000 Damages for Alleged Land Grant.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The claim of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company to $62,000,000 damages against the government for the latter's failure to turn over alternate sections of land along its line through Oklahoma will furnish one of several important oral arguments to be made during the week before the supreme court.

The railway's claim arises out of the spectacular railway building race fostered by the government in 1866. In that year congress offered to grant alternate sections of land, as soon as the Indian title thereto should be extinguished, along a line of railroad to be constructed across the present state of Oklahoma to Denison, Tex., to the first railroad to build a line from the eastern terminus of the Union Pacific on the Kansas and Missouri state lines to the southern line of Oklahoma.

The Kansas and Neosho, which since has become the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, won.

The government has not turned it over, however, contending that the land in question never became a part of the public lands of the United States. The railroad asks $20 an acre damages. The court of claims decided against it.

WORKED SIX YEARS FOR $5

Michigan Man Says a Stable Was His Bedroom.

Mason, Mich., Jan. 26.—A story of six years' toil, with a stable for his bedroom and $5 his salary for the entire period, was related by Arthur Pomeroy, who has returned to his father, a Gladwin county farmer. Pomeroy said that for six years the only time he had a haircut and shave was at sheep shearing time, once a year.

Pomeroy disappeared six years ago when he left his father's farm to visit his former home in Ohio. Pomeroy said he had gone to work for an Ingham county farmer, who had paid him only $5 and had held him there. When Pomeroy fled from the farm his whiskers were two feet long and his hair fell like a mane around his shoulders.

Passenger and Freight Trains in Collision.

CASUALTIES IN ONE COACH

Accident Occurs About Three Miles From Jackson and the Baggage Car and One Coach of the Passenger Train Are Telescoped and Every Person in the Coach Either Killed or Injured.

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 26.—Five persons were killed and possibly a score were injured when Michigan Central passenger train No. 70 from Saginaw collided with a freight train about three miles outside the city.

The baggage car and one coach of the passenger train were telescoped and every passenger in the coach was either killed or injured.

All available physicians were hurried to the scene of the wreck from this city. Several of the wounded were brought to hospitals here in an interurban car, the line of which parallels the Michigan Central tracks at that point.

Owing to the darkness the work of rescue was slow and difficult. Two hours after the collision a number of the passengers were still in the wreckage and it was believed some of these also might be dead.

GRAND JURY FAILS TO ACT

No True Bills in Alleged Kidnapping of Moyer.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 26.—A "no true bill" was reported by the special grand jury which has been investigating the alleged kidnapping and forcible deportation of Charles H. Moyer and James Tanner, officials of the Western Federation of Miners, on the night of Dec. 26.

Seventeen citizens were named in the indictment, which covered only the alleged assault on Moyer in Hancock. It developed that Special Prosecutor Nichols did not seek an indictment for the actual deportation of Moyer and Charles H. Tanner.

Mr. Nichols said afterward that he had explained to the jury that, in his opinion, the statute of kidnapping did not apply to the deportation of Moyer and Tanner because the union men were not forcibly sent out of the state.

REVOLUTION GROWS RAPIDLY

Rebels in Control of Several Important Towns in Hayti.

Port au Prince, Jan. 26.—The revolutionary movement in Hayti grows stronger day by day. All the towns in the North are in arms against the government and several of the most important places have been captured by the revolutionists.

In the South, Petit Grove, on the north shore of the southwestern peninsula, and Migoren on the south coast of the Bay of Gonaves, fifty miles from Port au Prince, have joined in the movement.

The United States armored cruiser Montana arrived in Haytian waters.

YACHTS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Thirty High Speed Boats Burned at Port Washington.

New York, Jan. 26.—About thirty boats, among them high speed motor craft, power cruiser yachts, sloops and launches, were lost in a $250,000 fire which completely destroyed the plant of the Stationary Marine Engine, Motor and Supply company of Port Washington, Long Island.

The destroyed craft belonged to Port Washington residents, most of whom are wealthy New York business and professional men.

Among the boats lost is the Bullet, which cost its owners, a syndicate, $50,000.

ASK EXEMPTION OF LABOR

Unions Demand That Trust Law Not Include Them.

Washington, Jan. 26.—"Exempt labor unions from the Sherman law," was the demand made by organized labor upon the administration. Citing the Baltimore platform pledge of the Democrats the American Federation of Labor is demanding that the administration's anti-trust bills grant such relief.

Representative Carlin of West Virginia, who aided in framing the tentative bills, admitted that President Gompers and other labor leaders are exercising strong pressure for inclusion in the bill defining the debatable area of the anti-trust law.

NURSES HAVE NEWER FIELDS

Dr. W. A. Coventry Recommends General Practice Before Special Work is Taken Up

ENGROSSING HEALTH PROBLEMS

W. H. Gemmell Acted as Presiding Officer at the Recent Graduation Exercises

Class of 1914:
Bessie Irene Koyl
Glennadean Kerr
Martha Bradley Perry
Florence Emily Miller
Bessie Marie Borgers
Mary Lulu Armstrong
Ruth Muriel Armstrong

The tenth graduating exercises of the Northern Pacific railway hospital training school for nurses were held at Elks hall and W. H. Gemmell acted as presiding officer. After the invocation by Rev. G. P. Sheridan, pastor of the First Congregational church, Mr. Gemmell said in part:

"On behalf of the staff and students of the Northern Pacific hospital and nurses' training school, I bid you welcome and thank you for your presence tonight in such goodly numbers, which is indicative of the keen interest you take in the work being done by that institution. Paradoxically as it may seem, we are gathered together this evening to participate in the celebration of both an ending and a commencement; an ending of three years of hard, courageous and intelligent work and study on the part of this class of young ladies who have undertaken to follow the honorable and beneficent, though arduous profession of nursing, and a commencement of their professional career, which is sealed tonight by the presentation of the diplomas which testify to the faithful work which they have done in class room and in ward, and are warrants of their authority to claim to be trained nurses.

"The profession of nursing, as you know, is an ancient and honorable one, dating back as far as the early part of the twelfth century. It remained, however, in its infancy until the middle part of the nineteenth century but has since then been making wonderful progress until now the trained nurse is the indispensable hand-maiden of the physician and surgeon. It is not my purpose to enlarge on this subject, as that will be taken care of by another speaker, but I might state that every large and recognized hospital in this country now has a nurses' training school connected with it, and I think our people of Brainerd should be deeply appreciative of the fact that we have one such here, and we will hope it will continue to prosper and grow as time goes on.

"After 25 years of conspicuously valuable and constructive service to the Northern Pacific hospital here as its chief surgeon and to its hospitals and medical service on the line, Dr. Walter Courtney has decided to take a well earned rest, and resign to the younger but strong and capable hands of our friend, Dr. A. W. Ide, the management of the institution which he has built up to its present high degree of efficiency.

"After many years of the same sort of intelligent, painstaking and faithful service as head nurse and superintendent of the nurses' training school, Miss Manning also places in the capable and willing hands of our young friend, Miss English, the arduous duties which she has so long and so successfully performed; so tonight we are, in a way, also engaged in commemorating a farewell and a welcome.

"Brainerd has produced many young men who have gone to other centers and made good, but of no one is she more proud than of the gentleman I am about to introduce, or rather re-introduce, for he is already an old acquaintance of most of you. I think it was a very happy thought on the part of Dr. Ide to invite as the speaker of the evening who should address the graduating class, our former fellow citizen, former interne at the Brainerd hospital and now a man whose reputation places him at the head of his profession in Duluth—Dr. W. A. Coventry.

Dr. Coventry delivered the following address:

"I regret that I have never before had the pleasure of listening to an address to one of your graduating classes. I judge that most of them have been along the usual line of advice of the relation of the nurse to the patient or the nurse to the physician or both. Tonight I thought I would depart from the usual and tell you a few things about some of the newer fields for nurses.

When your work here is completed I trust that every one of you will do general nursing. But that some day you will pack your suit case and travel to the greater nursing centres, and there once more become mere students, richer in experience and knowledge from your general nursing. That there you will endeavor to concentrate your energies along some special line of work. In other words that you will take up some nursing specialty.

I think that it is quite generally conceded in the medical profession that success in a specialty, who first has had from 5 to 10 years of general practice during which time he has had enough experience to smooth off the rough corners of his knowledge, the better to prepare him for his special work. Thus I trust you will all do general nursing for a few years before you attempt any special work.

During the last few years economic and sociological activities as to public health have been stimulated to what would seem to be the limit but which are in reality only the beginning of many greater health problems.

Take the anti-tuberculosis campaign, still in its infancy, but already we are seeing more cases of tuberculosis reported, treated, and cured than ever before. More cases reported not because there are more cases of tuberculosis but because people are coming earlier to physicians with their formerly so-called bad colds; but also the physician has been stimulated to the effect that instead of attempting to make a chest examination through a couple of shirts, now he bares the thorax to the waist line. The patient comes earlier and the physician makes an earlier diagnosis. More cases are treated because people are beginning to realize that early cases of tuberculosis can be cured. More cases are cured because we know better than to prescribe a cough mixture and dismiss the patient. Now we must prescribe proper rest, food and air.

Who has done the greatest work in finding and reporting suspicious cases of tuberculosis and in urging these people to consult physicians competent to discover the early signs? Who has seen to it that proper shelter for outdoor treatment and proper advice as to the care and prevention of the spread of this disease has been promulgated? Who has had the most satisfaction in seeing this or that child or family properly directed and finally restored to health? In my opinion it is the anti-tuberculosis nurse. Here is a field that I would strongly recommend for your consideration. Every city of 10,000 or more should have a tuberculosis nurse. Every county should join in the movement. The state of Minnesota will furnish abundant opportunity for such nurses.

Another similar line of work for the prolongation of life will be the coming campaign against cancer. Germany for some time has been conducting a campaign of education regarding the early recognition of cancer. Every year the proportion of operable cases is increasing. As you probably know the only known cure for cancer today is surgery, that is when this dread disease has not invaded other organs. But as in tuberculosis the disease must be recognized early and the operation must be radical to get results. So we must endeavor to educate the public, for in an early diagnosis lies their only hope. How can this be done? As you know cancer invades chiefly the female and she is not keen to seek early medical advice for a strange lump in the breast or an irregular or profuse hemorrhage from the uterus. She must be shown. These are delicate matters to talk about in the press or on the platform. I see before the visiting nurse a great field in which to impart this knowledge concerning the early recognition of cancer which seems most practical.

In our earnest endeavors to give charity where it should be given and where it will be most deserving. Charitable organizations have consolidated until we find in every city of any size an Associated Charities organization. Every such organization of any size must employ a visiting nurse whose duties must be more or less educational but which are also of a general nursing character. She must be able to do dressings direct and encourage the sick to proper medical care, assist the convalescent to rapid recovery and thus self support, instruct the expectant mother and after childbirth nurse her to an early and proper recovery and instruct her in the proper rearing of her children. Such a field for one to do good and such satisfaction in seeing the sick being restored to better health and better conditions. Let me assure you there is no more satisfactory or grateful class of patients than the poor. Thus is opened another field for your consideration.

Perhaps your tendencies lean toward surgery or hospital work. The giving of anaesthetics by specially trained nurses is becoming a more frequent occupation. The giving of a proper anaesthetic is indeed an art and can only be attained by long and watchful experience. The ordinary physician is often to much interested in the operation being performed. The interne cannot concentrate himself. There is so much going on about him. In Rochester, the Massachusetts General and many other hospitals specially trained nurses are used in this field. It seems to me a nurse by temperament and intellect is by far the most capable for this work. In these days of Anoci Association who can talk and soothe a patient to sleep better than a specially trained nurse. Therefore I suggest this field for your consideration.

What is so rare as an A. N. O. 1 operating room nurse. One begins to think as he operates more that they are as a genius born not made. Here must be skill, foresight, tact, concentration of ideas, resourcefulness, all must be combined. Rare she is, but if you think that you have the ability let me urge on you that you direct your effort by study, observation and work in this direction.

The campaign for the saving of life and the prevention of disease among our children is divided into two branches of service, that of instruction and that of nursing.

MAY HAVE A JOINT MEETING

It is now highly probable that the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, recently holding a mid-winter convention in Mankato, may hold a joint meeting with the Northern Minnesota Development association, which meets in Brainerd December 1, 2, 3 and 4 this year.

Secretary Mackenzie of the Northern Minnesota Development association wired Carl Zapffe, president of the Brainerd Commercial club, that negotiations under way, might lead to holding the joint meeting.

The Brainerd convention will be made notable by the offering of $2,000 in cash prizes by the N. M. D. A. for exhibits and in addition to being a convention it will be a great exhibition of farm products and as such gain still greater publicity.

Judge C. A. Albright, president of the N. M. D. A., has expressed himself as heartily in favor of such a course, for it will bring to Brainerd increasingly large crowds and do much to benefit the cause of agriculture in this north and central section.

Notice to M. B. A. Members

There will be a regular meeting of White Sand lodge No. 360 M. B. A. at their hall in Trades & Labor Temple Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. There will be adoption and installation. Supreme Board Director Jones, State Manager Kinman and District Deputy Ingalls will be present.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Weyerhaeuser Interests Inaugurate New Policy and Place Drill on Holdings

THE CANADIAN-CUYUNA ORE CO.

Paterson Construction Co. Starts Work on Company's Property in 13-45-30

The Weyerhaeuser interests, as a rule, have devoted their activities to lumbering and paid little attention to the development of what mineral holdings they have on the Cuyuna iron range. True, they leased land near Ironton for mining purposes when no other alternative was possible. The placing of a drill by the Weyerhaeusers in section 31, township 47, range 28 to explore one of their numerous tracts of land in Crow Wing county, is believed by many to be the forerunner of more development work, a proceeding which is hailed with delight by all.

East of Brainerd six miles and south of Leorch one mile are the holdings of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. Here the Paterson Construction Co. has put a crew of carpenters at work, starting construction of officers' quarters and a boarding house for the men. The E. J. Longyear Exploration Co. has placed a drill in operation for the purpose of locating the depth of overburden and getting other information required in connection with the shaft location. Shaft and mine timber has been ordered from the coast and the opening of the property will be rushed with a view of making ore shipments during the latter part of the 1914 shipping season or at the latest by the opening of navigation the following spring. It is expected that work will be started in 30 days on a three-compartment timber shaft.

Prominent in bringing to the notice of financial interests the merits of the mineral holdings now owned by the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. in section 13, township 45, range 30 was E. C. Bane, of Brainerd, who made repeated trips to eastern Canada and eventually was successful. Ray Seeley, formerly of Brainerd and later identified with the steel industry in Canada, unified the three groups of fee owners in section 13 township 45 range 30, secured the leases which each group had given the Longyear Exploration Co., subleases being made of 48 years' duration at 50 cents a ton.

In the first group owning the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter, the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30, and giving to the Longyear Co., of Minneapolis a 50 year lease dated August 12, 1912, at 30 cents a ton with a minimum of 20,000 tons annually for the first, second and third years and 30,000 tons annually thereafter are Marietta A. Whiteley owning 40-80 and her husband Robert K. Whiteley; M. L. Bane owning 8-80 and her husband E. C. Bane, of Brainerd; the Helmer Exploration Co., owning 12-80 and Henry J. Ernster owning 5-80 and wife Susie M. Ernster, of Deerwood; John Dower owning 2-80 and wife Rose Dower; S. J. Dower owning 2-80 and wife Edna Dower; H. F. Ebner owning 1-80 and wife Elizabeth Dower; W. A. Ebner owning 1-80 and wife Hulda M. Dower; C. W. Miller owning 2-80 and wife Della Miller; W. E. Parker owning 2-80 and wife Alice G. Parker; N. O. Nelson owning 1-80 and wife Alma Nelson; A. G. Swindlehurst owning 2-80 of Wadena, and F. F. Latta, of Minneapolis, owning 2-80. The second group gave a lease to the E. J. Longyear Co., of Minneapolis, on March 29, 1913 covering the east half of the northwest quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30 at 30c a ton and a minimum of 10,000 tons annually the first and second years, 20,000 tons the third and fourth years, and 30,000 tons annually thereafter, the lessors being Cuyler Adams owning 5-24 and Virginia Adams his wife; F. A. Edson owning 1-24 and Fannie C. Edson his wife; the O'Brien Mercantile Co., of Brainerd, owning 4-24, Dr. Werner Hemstead owning 4-24 and wife Marguerite Hemstead; Clifton A. Albright owning 4-24 and wife Winnifred Albright; R. J. Hartley owning 4-24 and wife Jessie Hartley; J. M. Elder owning 1-24 and wife Flora Elder, all of Brainerd and L. A. Barton of Gordon, Douglas county, Wisconsin, owning 1-24. at 30 cents a ton and a minimum tonnage of 10,000 tons the first year, 20,000 tons the second, 30,000 tons the third and 40,000 tons annually thereafter, all the above being fifty year leases.

G. H. Wyman, of Anoka, was on the range this week. He has a drill in section 30, township 46, range 29. The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. is operating a drill and on the Campbell forty, the fee of which is owned by James T. Joyce of Eau Claire, Wis., Mrs. Sarah K. McAlpine of Duluth, J. C. Campbell of Cloquet and Dr. J. A. Root of Erie, Pa. Good ore has been found in the south half of the southeast quarter of section 3, township 46, range 29. Good results have also been obtained in section 16.

The Duluth-Brainerd mine is to resemble greatly the Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton. At the annual election of the latter company the old officers and directors were re-elected. The Duluth-Brainerd mine in section 32 township 47, range 29 is making good progress and will no doubt enter the shipping lists in 1914.

The Cuyuna-Duluth shaft at Ironton is down about 300 feet and a pump station is being cut at that level. The mine is hoisting ore from the top level. Payday was on the 21st. The Cuyuna-Mille Laes mine has installed its 2,000 gallon pump. Water is pumped from the bottom level to the big pump on the sublevel, which discharges it in a 12-inch stream. The mine is making rail shipments to furnaces.

The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna is getting out a stockpile and is also extending its underground workings so as to have everything in readiness for heavy shipments from the shaft when navigation opens. H. J. Kruse, superintendent of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co., believes the company will get out possibly 100,000 tons of a stockpile. McMenemy & Bumgardner are making good progress with their railway work, the Northern Pacific extension running in a line across a bay of Rabbit lake and on to the timber shaft of the Kennedy mine.

At the Rowe mine at Riverton a steam shovel is engaged in stripping. The hydraulic work has closed down, but the shovel kept on, and is now cutting east to the county road on the third cut. About 120 men are employed at the mine.

The Thompson mine of the Inland

Steel Co. at Crosby has ceased stripping and the shovel is silent pending alterations in trackage and the building of a viaduct. The Pennington mine shovel is silent. This mine has a huge bed of ore exposed and will ship heavily as soon as navigation opens. Last year the Pennington shipped over 100,000 tons. Visiting the Pennington this week were Geo. Urquhart of St. Paul, Donald Quinlivan and Scott Ewers, accompanied by C. A. Gillman, of St. Cloud, former lieutenant-governor of the state of Minnesota. Messrs. Urquhart, Quinlivan and Ewers are identified with the Gopher Iron Co. The Gopher people own an interest in the Pennington mine.

The Potts Exploration Co., of Deerwood, has three drills at work, two being near Rabbit lake and one near Riverton.

The Cuyuna Central Iron Co. property is being drilled by two churn drills and a diamond drill. Good ore is being found. J. J. McAuliffe, the president of the company, showing some samples which went 64 per cent. The E. J. Hunter farm lies near by. It was drilled last year by A. J. Harker, the property being in the west half of the southeast quarter of section 22, township 47, range 29. A substantial ore body was proven up. It is under option for a lease to Harker, being of 50 years' duration, 20 cents a ton royalty and a minimum fant welfare nurse and of the school nurse. The infant welfare nurses work resolves itself into a matter of the demonstration to and the education of mothers regarding the preparation of food and the proper feeding of infants. The physician in charge of babies where artificial food must be used finds great difficulty in impressing upon mothers the matter of cleanliness of bottles, nipples, milk and the proper preparation of infant foods. It has been found that there is only one way to instruct mothers and that is by practical demonstration of the proper methods to be used and then one must keep following it up and driving home these instructions week after week. This and how to clothe, bathe and air babies becomes the main duties of an infant welfare nurse. Dr. Josephine Baker of the N. Y. health department says that 80 per cent of the reduction of infant mortality is due to nurses work in the home.

The Scottish Rite Masons of Duluth, have for several years employed such a nurse to be at the call of any physician of the city, to be operated to go into the home and carry out his instructions. The results obtained and the babies saved have so encouraged the promoters that they now employ a physician during the summer months so that those who cannot afford it may have a free doctor. The value of this field, has become so great that in the summer time the health department dispenses at various depots pure milk for babies at cost. These duties are being done by trained nurses who thus come in contact with mothers, go to their homes and demonstrate the proper care of their infants. Let me recommend this line of work for your consideration.

The school nurse works in harmony with the medical school inspector. The children are examined in the school by the physician where everything practical is observed in the child. Is there or is there not a tendency toward tuberculosis, are the eyes defective, tonsils or adenoids enlarged, are the teeth in good condition, are there skin lesions that may be cured, has the child a disease that may be communicated to others, is the child underfed or poorly clothed, is the child mentally defective and many other problems. The physician finds these out but there his duty ends.

Then comes the school nurse. She goes to the home, finds out what kind of a home it is, what kind and manner of parents and then must use rare judgment in imparting the fact that Johnnie has adenoids and they should be removed or that if a little coal oil was used on Willie's head occasionally he could come back to school or perhaps Mary goes to school without her breakfast and looks the part. Indeed she must be most tactful in order to win the confidence of the mother and father to show them the errors in their children and teach them the simple truth of hygiene and right living. People as a rule are eager to learn if you can only get at them in the right way. Then I see also a great field for the school nurse if she is also a teacher in training children how to live well, the simpler sanitary methods, the recognition of the simpler diseases, physiology, elementary bacteriology, home hygiene, nursing emergencies and first aid. Who better than the nurse outside of the home to teach our girls about the great sex hygiene movement. Thus you can see here a great field for work that will give you a great deal of satisfaction in its performance.

And so it goes on and on. The opportunities for special work for nurses is growing every day. One must in these days keep one's ear close to the earth and one's eyes ever on the horizon for new ideas. Perhaps you think I am idealizing these fields but look at it as you will, ideas are after all the really practical side of life and progress is the outcome of ideas. Every social reformer must of necessity be an idealist. Once the ideas pass into a reality we no longer call them ideas but practical reforms.

Aside from the satisfaction obtained from this work, and there is a satisfaction because I have never yet met a nurse engaged in this work who would willingly go back to general nursing, there are other things to consider, your hours of labor are shorter and practically always daylight hours. You have your bed to sleep in. Your meals are regular. In fact you live in every way a more regular life. As for the financial side, it pays equally well. A nurse makes on an average 75 dollars a month. These special lines usually pay from $75 to $125 a month.

I would not advise any one of you to seek these lines of work immediately as you are not yet prepared. You must have the experience of general nursing in order to learn those qualities that go to make a successful nurse, such as tact as regards the physician, tact as regards your conduct with patient and friends and tact as regards physician and patient, sympathy and again comes tact as to how best to impress and express your sympathy. You must get a knowledge of human nature that can only be obtained by actually touching elbows with the world, resourcefulness in applying the needs to the wants of the patient. Learn to keep your opinions to yourself. Foresight consists in always seeing a day ahead of the present day of the illness, in ability to think for yourself. All these qualities must be combined in a general nurse but more particularly must they be possessed by one seeking these special lines of work.

In closing, I appeal to you in the words of Henry van Dike.

"Let me but do my work from day to day,

In field or forest at the desk or loom,
In roaring market place or tranquil room.

Let me but find it in my heart to say
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray—

This is my work; my blessing, not my doom.

Of all who live I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way.

Then shall I see it not too great or small

To suit my spirit and to prove my powers.

Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours

And cheerfully turn when the long shadows fall.

At eventide to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best."

C. W. Laidlaw, secretary of the N. P. B. A., presented the diplomas and badges.
